

6 Goldsmith Street SOUTH BUNBURY, WA

The Brady's and Some in South Bunbury

So much space in such a good location at a really good price - it's a dream come true for a big family looking for a new place to call home.

But there is so much more to the two storey, 6 bedroom home at 6 Goldsmith Street in South Bunbury than just its bumper size.

This is a place in a sought-after location with a terrific sense of history and a distinctive character.

Loving it means having some imagination but for anyone with the right vision, this is a home that will reward you ten-fold for any effort you might put into its restoration.

Built in 1960, number 6 Goldsmith Street was the first home constructed by a man called Vic Pesky.

He went on to become a renowned buider in the Bunbury area which provides some insight into the quality of this home.

In 1976 the second storey was added and along with the extra space, came superb rear views which these days include a snapshot of the Bunbury Tower.

The inclusion of a second abode with its own separate entry and carport offers the perfect set-up for a home based business or granny flat.

There's a big circular drive, workshop, attractive back garden with
