THAT FOREST FEEL

The view from inside this home looking out, you could be mistaken in thinking you were nestled deep in the local Forrest. This delightful home takes full advantage of its natural surrounds with extensive use of glass to open the home to the natural vista. The inclusion of raked ceilings in the main living areas gives this great size 3 bedroom 1 bathroom home a feeling of even larger proportions. Set on just under half an acre on the edge of town this property would appeal to the first home buyer or young family looking to enter the market.
