

15 Ashton Road BINNINGUP, WA

Dream Location for your Dream Home

Ashton Road is one of the secret streets of Binningup - with cul-de-sacs at both ends, all you will hear are the waves crashing and the local birdlife.

This 852m² block is north facing and is evenly sloped from front to back. The block is ideally suited to a pole home or an undercroft style of build. Use your creative side to design a home and outdoor areas that capture the views of the ocean & the winter sun.

This property provides plenty of space to include side access & room for a shed. At the rear there is reserve, so you will never have neighbours at the back of your property, where there are lovely vantage points to look over the town and the ocean.
