The Best of the Beach & the Bush!

If you are looking for a beachside location with complete seclusion, this property in an exclusive residential estate north of Myalup might just tick all the boxes.

Lot 7 is part of a very small and exclusive residential estate nestled deep in the bushland, just out of Myalup. Using the limestone network within the estate you can easily access the beach - some days you will be the only person there!

Built in 2004, this Content Living home has room for all of the family. With large bedrooms and multiple living areas, it can certainly cater for a crowd.

The main living area is enormous, with room for multiple sitting areas, games room & family dining. The kitchen is also massive with a near-new oven, breakfast bar, double sink, pa
